

ECONference

April 20, 2016

The NIU Department of Economics
Invites you to come join a discussion on Financial Economics

NIU Economics department along with the Center for Economic Education will be offering a one-day conference which will have varied sessions aimed at high school students, college students, pre and in-service teachers and faculty.

Recently, the state of Illinois declared April to be financial literacy month, so this years the Conference will be aimed toward economic choices and your financial decisions.
