Therefore the Total Program Completers count does not include data for several private training entities. A list of CDL Training Providers can be found on the website at the following link: http://www.cyberdriveillinois.com/departments/drivers/driver_education/commercial_driver_training/cdlcertschools.pdf.

 Olive-Harvey figures include Basis Certificates (short-term) in Class C Driver Training, Commercial Driver Training, Commercial Passenger Driver Training, and Limo-Restricted Chauffeur Training

* CDL Renewals are required every four years

Source: Obtained via email correspondence between the Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity and the Secretary of State Driver Services Department.
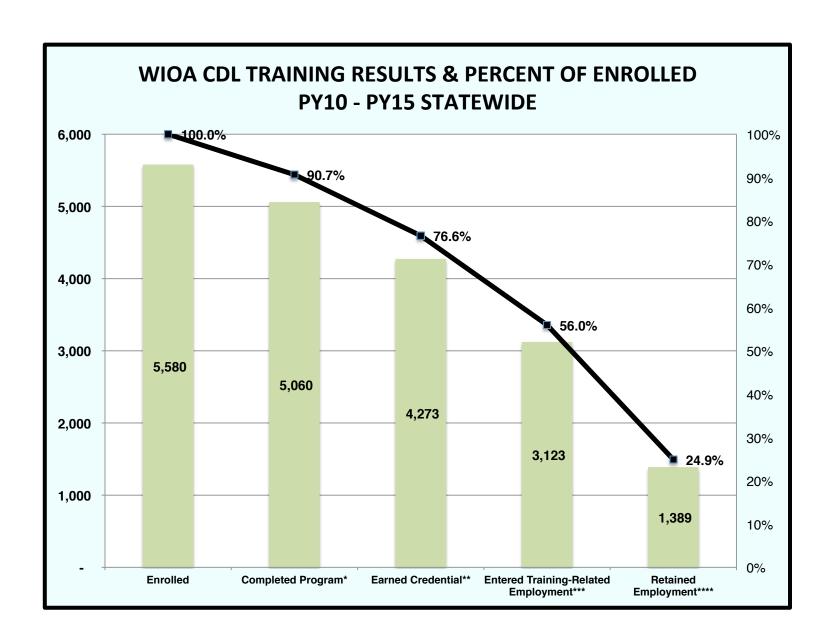

Note: Drop in CDL's from 2013-2014 was most likely driven by some new physical/medical requirements. Some license holders may not have been able to meet the requirements, and those who maintained licenses but were not utiizing them may have dropped them for being too burdensome.
